RECIPES

Frozen Pudding.

Two cups of sugar, two eggs, one pint milk, one quart of cream, two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, a scant one-half cup flour, one-half pound conserved pineapple, a small bottle of Maraschino cherries, one-half pint of sherry wine and four tablespoonfuls of rum. Boil the milk, beat the eggs, flour and one cup sugar together, then stir in the boiling milk. Let boil twenty minutes, take off and gelatine. After having been dissolved in a little water, set away to cool; then add the other cup of sugar, cream, rum, wine, cherries (chopped in small pieces), pineapple, chopped fine also, and freeze.

Virginia Plum Pudding.

One pound raisins, one-half pound currants, three cups flour, one cup suet, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, three-quarters cup molasses, a little citron. Put the suet and fruit into the flour dry, then break in the eggs and milk enough to make a batter stiff enough for cake. Spice to taste. Boil three hours in floured bak. This can be made in three or four puddings. For sauce: one and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup butter creamed very light, yolks of three eggs beaten light, three-quarters cup of boiling water. Keep hot.

Oyster Cocktail.

Five or six oysters to a cocktail, or if very large cut in half. Take the oysters out of their own liquor and put them on ice to get very cold. To one quart of oysters take a large half cup of tomato catsup, juice of one and one-half lemons, three dessertspoons of Worcestershire sauce and one teaspoonful of tabasco sauce, pinch of salt. Put in the oysters about fifteen minutes before serving; serve in small glasses.

Peppercorns.

One pound of granulated sugar, enough water to moisten, stir for five minutes. Take off the stove and add twenty-two drops of peppermint; then heat until thick and drop on marble slab.

Pumpkin Pie.

One can of pumpkin, three eggs, sugar to taste, one cup of sweet milk, one teaspoonful each of allspice, cinnamon and ginger, two teaspoonfuls melted butter into the pumpkin. Beat the eggs separately, or one by one; then add sugar, spices and flour, stirring thoroughly, and lastly adding milk and butter. Pour mixture into pie tin, previously lined with pie crust and bake thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

We aim to make each piece as near perfection as care and skill are capable of producing, making true our famous slogan—
